1) Subject: Request for Assignment Deadline Extension Request for Assignment Deadline Extension

Respected Sir/Ma'am,

I hope you are doing well.

I am Satish Kumar, a student of B.Tech (First Year) from your class. I am writing to respectfully request an extension for the submission of the assignment due on 31 march.

Due to health issues, I was unable to complete the assignment within the given deadline. I sincerely apologize for any inconvenience caused.

I kindly request you to grant me an extension of a few days so that I can complete and submit my work properly.

I assure you that I will submit the assignment at the earliest possible time.

Thank you for your understanding.

Yours sincerely,

Satish Kumar

2) Subject: Application for Summer Internship Opportunity Application for Summer Internship Opportunity

Respected Sir/Ma'am,

I hope this message finds you well.

My name is Satish Kumar, and I am currently pursuing my B.Tech (First Year) at VIT Bhopal University. I am writing to express my interest in a summer internship opportunity at your esteemed organization.

I am enthusiastic about learning and gaining practical experience in the field of technology. I have basic knowledge of Python and am actively working on improving my programming and problem-solving skills.

I would be grateful if you could consider my application for any suitable internship opportunities. I am eager to learn, contribute, and grow under professional guidance.

Please let me know if any further information is required.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Yours sincerely,

Satish Kumar

Media Dos and
Don'ts checklist.

Social Media Do's and Don'ts for College Students

Navigating social media responsibly is essential for protecting your digital wellbeing and building a positive online presence. This guide provides clear guidelines to help you make smart choices in your digital life.

Why Digital Wellbeing Matters

Our online presence shapes how others perceive us—whether it's potential employers, graduate schools, or future colleagues. Research shows that 85% of employers review candidates' social media profiles before hiring.

Every post, comment, and share contributes to your digital footprint, which can last indefinitely. Learning to navigate social media mindfully protects your reputation and mental health whilst helping you build a professional identity.

The Essential Do's

Building a positive online presence starts with these fundamental practices:

Maintain a Professional Presence

Curate your profiles to reflect your best self. Use appropriate profile pictures and ensure your content aligns with your career goals and values.

Think Before You Post

Pause and consider: Will I regret this in five years? Could this hurt someone's feelings? How might this appear to a potential employer?

Use Privacy Settings Wisely

Regularly review platform settings to control who sees your content. Limit location sharing and be selective about friend requests and followers.

Respect Others Online

Treat others with the same courtesy you expect. Think twice before tagging people, respect boundaries, and engage in constructive conversations.

Share Useful Content

Contribute positively by sharing educational resources, celebrating achievements, and posting content that adds value to your community.

✕ The Important Don'ts

Avoid these common pitfalls that can damage your reputation and wellbeing:

Don't Share Sensitive Information

Avoid posting your address, phone number, financial details, or daily routines. Oversharing personal information increases vulnerability to identity theft and stalking.

Don't Post Inappropriate Content

Photos or videos showing excessive drinking, illegal activities, or offensive behaviour can haunt you for years. Once online, content is nearly impossible to fully erase.

Don't Engage in Cyberbullying

Never post hurtful comments, spread rumours, or participate in online harassment. Your words have real consequences and can lead to serious disciplinary action or legal trouble.

Don't Spread Misinformation

Verify news and facts before sharing. Sharing unverified content contributes to the spread of fake news and can mislead your friends and followers.

Don't Overshare Daily Life

Constant updates about your whereabouts, relationships, or emotions can be exhausting for followers and may signal vulnerability. Practice digital minimalism and savour moments offline.

Building Your Digital Brand

Professional Presence

- Use professional photos for LinkedIn and professional networks
- Highlight academic achievements, internships, and projects
- Connect with professors, alumni, and industry professionals
- Share industry-related articles and insights

Personal Expression

- Separate personal accounts from professional profiles
- Use Instagram, TikTok, or Snapchat for creative expression
- Maintain privacy settings on personal content
- Be authentic whilst staying mindful of your audience

Protecting Your Privacy

01

Review Settings Monthly

Platforms frequently update privacy policies. Check who can see your posts, tag you, or send messages.

02

Limit Location Data

Disable location tagging on photos and avoid posting real-time whereabouts that could compromise safety.

03

Curate Your Audience

Regularly review followers and friends. Remove or block accounts that make you uncomfortable or seem suspicious.

04

Think Before Tagging

Always ask permission before tagging others in photos, especially if content might embarrass or compromise them.

Staying Safe from Misinformation

Verify First

Check credible sources before sharing breaking news or controversial claims

Fact-Check

Use fact-checking websites like Snopes, FactCheck.org, or Reuters to confirm information

Educate Others

Gently correct misinformation in comments and share reliable sources

 Remember: Sharing unverified content—even with good intentions—amplifies misinformation. When in doubt, don't share.

Managing Your Digital Wellbeing

Healthy Social Media Habits

- Set dailytime limits using phonefeaturesor apps
- Take regular digital detox breaks—weekends or study periods
- Unfollow accounts that make you feel anxious or inadequate
- Disable notifications during study hours and bedtime
- Follow accounts that inspire, educate, and motivate you
